TWELYE KILLED IN WRECK.

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT TRAINS COLLIDE IN OHIO.

Most of the Dead Were Italian Laborers All Cars Except the Sleepers Were Telescoped-Accident on the Nickel Plate Road Early Yesterday Morning.

LORAIN, Aug. 13.-Twelve lives were sacrificed by a trainman's blunder in a headon crash of a Nickel Plate passenger train and a freight at Kishman's switch on the shore of Lake Erie, near Vermillion, at 1 o'clock this morning.

In the path of the approaching flier the engine crew of the freight carelessly delayed their train. The engine of the passenger train, running fifty miles an hour, plowed through the boiler of the monster freight engine before it, and the crash broke coaches into splinters and snapped and twisted heavy steel.

Thirty-nine Italian laborers, pockets jingling with money after a pay night and singing and chattering in anticipation of the return to Italy a few weeks hence, were riding in the smoker of the passenger. The impact sent the car in the rear of the smoker half way through it, and nine of the thirty-nine were crushed to death in an

When the crash came C. W. Poole: a veteran in the service of the Nickel Plate, remained at his post. After a warning cry to his fireman, he told him that he could jump and save his life. The crash caught Poole in the engine cab, and the bleeding and dying man hung there in the sight of the panic stricken passengers for many long Joseph Alexander of Jersey City, proved by a letter found on his body to be a deserter from the navy, was crushed in the demolished smoker.

General Superintendent A. W. Johnston of the Nickel Plate issued the following statement to-night:

*From what we have learned up to the present time, the cause of the accident was the failure of the freight train to clear the main track. The blame rests, therefore, entirely upon the crew of this train. They should have had that train in there at least five minutes before the time the passenger train arrived.

"That is one of the rules of the road. As the freight train obscured the switch lamps, the passenger orew, of course, could not tell what it said, whether red or white. We have learned of no reason as yet as to just why the train crew did not have the main track all clear.

"A most thorough investigation will be begun Tuesday morning by myself, when all the crews and other witnesses that can be secured will be examined."

The engineer of the freight train was D. W. Derby of Conneaut and the fireman C. W. Canlan, also of Conneaut. The engineer had been given orders to take the siding at Kishman's for the eastbound passenger.

According to the despatcher's sheet the freight was to take the switch for No. 37, the passenger, to pass. Figures obtained by the approximated time of the occurrence of the wreck and the time the train left Lorain show it required the freight almost twenty-five minutes to cover the sever miles. This is one of the reasons for the disaster as advanced by railroad men.

The freight train, ordered to take the Kishman siding, did not stop at the opening, but proceeded for some reason unexplained for the length of a hundred cars down the main track. The scene at the wreck was a fearful one.
Screams from the injured and frightened

Italians almost overcame the noise from the cracking wood and escaping steam. The two day coaches were telescoped. Death came almost instantly to the few of the passengers sitting in the rear of the

The seats were ground into straws by of the collision, and the mangled beneath the twisted iron and the timbers of the side of the coaches.

Farmers from the immediate neighborhood came to the aid of the trainmen and three Pullmans were only stunned by the shock. They hurriedly dressed and in scanty attire helped pull out the bodies of the unfortunates in the front coaches.

A trainman said that not one of the passengers, many apparently men of wealth, shirked, but all untiringly aided in the rescue. The bodies of the eight dead Italians were pulled through the windows of the wrecked smoker, one by one.

One of the cars but slightly damaged was converted into a morgue, and ten bodies were kept at the scene for three hours until

The death of Engineer Poole was tragic. The part played by his fireman, F. E. Haefner, was that of a hero. Held as if by a wedge in the wreckage of the splintered cab, the engineer hung for minutes head downward. Haefner, who had jumped after calling to his chief, stood near by, leading the band of men with axes, urging Poole to be brave. Pillows were brought from a house; and carefully carried to the bank at the side of the track. There for nearly two hours he ky watching the work of rescue. Haefner was constantly at his side until he died. The band of Italian victims of the wreck were employees of Kronenberg & Co. of Buffalo, a big contracting firm. They had been working at Old Fort Seneca and were being taken to Brookfield, Ohio, to work

DROWNING AT LONG BRANCH.

Bather Who Ventures Beyond Lifeline Goes Down Crying for Help. Lone Brance, N. J., Aug. 13.—An unthe Howland Hotel to-day. The man was a good swimmer and with several others ventured out beyond the lifelines. He threw up his hands and cried for help. He sank before the lifeguard from the he sank before the firegular from the bathing grounds reached the spot where he went down.

In the man's bathroom were found his clothing, consisting of a negligee shirt, pair of black trousers and low shoes. There were 96 cents in his pockets. It is believed that he was a stranger here only for the day. This is the first drowning accident of the season.

The bartenders of three Raines law hotels that have been "closed" on three consecutive nights were again arraigned in the West Side court yesterday for excise violation. They were John Zimmerman, 1551 Broadway; Ed Jolly, and Barney J Flynn, a bartender at the Raines law hote at 988 Eighth avenue. Flynn was charged with violating section G of the excise law, which forbids the keeping open on Sunday of the door between a licensed barroom and the of the door between a Hoensel and the rear room.

"Your Honor," said Counselor James Smith to Magistrate Pool, "the proprietor of this saloon has been notified that his license has been revoked. It is no violation of the excise law for this man to have his door open if his license has been revoked."

"Quite right," said Magistrate Pool.

"De man is discharged."

NO INDEMNITY-GOLDWIN SMITH. 150 DEATHS FROM THE FEVER. He Declares That Japan heald Receive

No Money From Russ! . TORONTO, Aug. 18 .- In the simple manner that characterizes the man. Goldwin Smith will celebrate his eighty-second birthday at his residence, the Grange, to-morrow. The event will be marked only by the presence at the dinner table of a few relatives and intimate friends.

Goldwin Smith is following with the keenest interest the progress of the Russo-Japanese peace conference at Portsmouth The game of war and the game of peace are both familiar to him. In conversatiou today Goldwin Smith said that in his opinion Japan was not entitled to a cent of indemnity from Russia, and that the Czar should not pay it.

"It was Japan who started hostilities without a formal declaration of war. Japan has spent enormous sums, of course, but so has Russia, and the latter has lost territory. If the Mikado attempts to enforce his alleged demand for $1,000,000,000 indemnity, or any large part of it, the Czar will be enabled to appeal to the patriotism of his people, disorganized though the nation is, to resist the demands. And if Japan were to succeed in obtaining recognition of her money claim, she could not collect it. Germany collected from France because she had conquered France, but Japan will have absolutely no means of naking Russia pay.

Russia has lost territory and should not have to pay enormous money claims in addition. If she gives up Manchuria, recedes from the Pacific Coast, being allowed to retain a port there, along with some of the other territorial stipulations alleged to be set forth in Japan's proposals, that is all that can reasonably be expected of

Mr. Smith did not seem to be of the opinion that this conference would result in peace. He seemed more pessimistic

CHOOSING NEW CABINET MEMBER. President Not Likely to Select New Yorker

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Secretary Leelie M. Shaw will retire from the Cabinet in February, and it is believed here that the President has already given some thought to his successor. Hamilton Fish has been suggested, but in view of the acceptance by Elihu Root of the President's offer to become Secretary of State it is a question whether it will be deemed politic for the President to take a second member of his Cabinet from New York. If he decides to pass by New York, the name of Postmaster-Genera Cortelyou will be eliminated from the possibilities, and he has been strongly "touted."

Charles E. Dawes, ex-Comptroller of the Currency, now president of the Central Trust Company of Illinois, at Chicago, is in favor. On a recent visit to Washington Mr. Dawes dismissed the suggestion with the statement that while he had no knowledge that the President was considering his name he was frank to say that he had no desire for the place. Mr. Dawes is rapidly making a name for himself in the financial circles of Chicago and a place in the Cabinet would interfere with his money making plans and hardly promote his political ambitions, which are supposed to turn in the direction of the United States Senatorship from Illinois.

H. H. Hanns of Indianspolis, wnose name has been so favorably associated with the efforts for currency reform legislation during the past eight years, is one of those from the Middle West much dicussed. Mr. Hanna is free from the political factional disputes that are stirring up Indiana politicians. He is free from party machine influences and close to the commercial interests of the country. He served with Prof. Jenks and Charles A. Conant or with Prof. Jenks and Charles A. Conant on the last international monetary commission. If, however, the President is as successful in concealing his plans from the public in the matter of selecting the next Secretary of the Treasury as he was in filling the naval portfolio, speculation and gossip as to his plans may go far awry. No one suggested or even guessed at the possibility of Mr. Bonaparte's appointment until the President announced it from the White House.

SENATE COMMITTEE CHANGES Deaths and Retirements Leave Many of the committees of the Senate may be accomplished at the extra session in November, but it is generally believed that the matter will be postponed until the regular session in December.

Death and retirement have caused number of vacancies at the heads of important committees. The deaths of Sens. Connecticut, both within the year, have made it possible for a far Western man to go to the chairmanship of the Judiciary Committee, which has belonged to the East for more than a decade. Senator Clark of Wyoming is in line for this chair-

The death of Senator Hawley creates a vacancy at the head of the Committee on Military Affairs. Senator Warren of Wyoming is likely to succeed to the Military Affairs or Agriculture committee chairmanship. Senator Proctor and Senator Scott are striving for the chairmanship of Public Buildings and Grounds, made vacant by Mr. Fairbanks's election to the Vice-Presidency. Senator Warren is in line for this vacancy, but prefers either Agriculture or Military Affairs. Senator Agriculture or Military Affairs. Senator Fulton of Oregon is likely to succeed Warren at the head of Claims.

Other vacancies occurring in chairmanships are Census, held by Senator Quarles, now United States Circuit Judge; Education and Labor, held by McComas, now on the District of Columbia bench; Forest Reservations, held by Burton of Kensas; Geological Survey, held by Foster of Washington; Indian Affairs, held by Stewart; Interoceanic Canals, held by Mitchell of Oregon, to which Senator Platt of New York will probably succeed; Irrigation and Reclamation of Arid Lands, held by Bard of California, and the select committees of which Bate of Tennesses, decesed, Dietrich and Kearns were chairmen. The reorganization will necessarily be sweeping.

The passing of the low pressure area out the St. Lawrence Valley has permitted the easterly St. Lawrence value movement of the high pressure and cooler weather from the Northwest into the Lake regions and central States. The change in temperature caused showers and thunderstorms throughout the Lake regions and on the coast.

In this city the day was warmer and sultry, with ocasional thundershowers; wind generally light to fresh southerly, shifting to east and northeast; average humidity 67 per cent.; barometer, corrected to read to sea level, at 8 A. M., 29.95; 8 P. M., 29.95.

northeast winds.

For New England, partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, showers Tuesday in south portion; light to fresh north to northeast winds.

For western Pennsylvania and western New York, partly cloudy Monday; Tuesday, showers; light to fresh east winds.

NE V ORLEANS HAS NEARLY 1,000 CASES SO FAR.

Yellow Jack Losing Its Italian Character -No More Shipments of Bananas -Dr. Leach Finds Men Who Will Let Him Experiment on Them With Arsenie.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18 .- The yellow fever beginning to lose the distinctively Italian character it had during its first days, and consequence the death rate is decreasing. In July it was almost wholly limited to Italians, there being 280 cases among them, as against 24 among all the other nationalities of New Orleans, and 59 deaths were of Italians, against 3 of other races. In August there have been 316 cases of Italians to 295 of other nationalities. The Italians have been in a minority among the newly reported cases for the last three days. The dead number 58 Italians and 22 of other nationalities.

The totals to this morning are: Italians, 506 cases and 117 deaths, or one in five; other races, 317 cases and 26 deaths, or one in twelve. This classified record does not nolude 50 cases and 12 deaths of to-day. Next to the Italians stand the Creoles or French, in cases and mortality, this being due probably to the spread of the disease from the Italian to the Creole quarter. There have been very few cases among those of American or English descent and still fewer among the negroes. The popular belief that negroes could not have the fever and that Creoles rarely had it has been thoroughly dissipated.

The Louisiana State Board of Health broke down a number of illegal quarantines to-day. The worst case was at Woodworth, where the track of the St. Louis, Watkins and Gulf Railroad was barricaded with crossics, placed there by the quarantine guards to prevent the passage of any trains, freight or passenger. Complaints come from the lumber camps on Bayou Black, Terrebonne and other streams in Black, Terrebonne and other streams in Terrebonne and St. Mary parish that the logging business has been practically suspended and the loggers are actually suffering for lack of supplies in consequence of the closure by quarantine of all communication between them and the rest of the world.

Bananas have been declared contraband of quarantine at New Orleans. The

the world.

Bananas have been declared contraband of quarantine at New Orleans. The fruit cars, being open, cannot be fumigated satisfactorily and mosquitoes may be found in them. On order from Washington no bananas will be allowed to be shipped from New Orleans to any point north or south during the rest of the season. Among the victims of the fever last night was Carl Schaaf of the New Orleans Item. He was from Fort Wayne, Ind., and had been in New Orleans only a few years. Although not immune, he had a number of assignments in the fever district. His wife was taken with yellow fever some time ago and he nursed her to convalescence. When he was attacked the nervous strain and exhaustion of nursing had left him very weak and he succumbed easily to the fever.

The citizens' volunteer sanitary association has voted to become permanent and will keep up its sanitary campaign, year after year, until New Orleans is in perfect senitary condition. Inspect or of Police Whitaker will use the police to enforce the sanitary laws, showing mercy to no one who is a lawbreaker. A number of affidavits were made to-day against landlords and real estate agents for not screening the cisterns of tenants and daily affidavits will be made against them until they take action.

The Italian relief committee has added

action.

The Italian relief committee has added a free boarding house to its free kitchen for destitute Italians. Dr. Leach of St. Paul, Minn., who is the author of the theory that the taking of arsenic in small doses will prevent the yellow fever, has arrived here and will test his theory. Several men have offered themselves for experiment and will submit to being bitten by infected stegomyla mosquitoes after two weeks of arsenic treatment.

stegomyia mosquitoes after two weeks of arsenic treatment.

Mayor Behrman has received a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Louisville Board of Trade expressing sincere and heartfelt sympathy for the people of New Orleans and declaring that the brave and energetic fight which they are making to confine the dreadful scourge in narrow limits and stamp it out entitles them to the admiration and thanks of people everyimiration and thanks of people where.

The Louisians Confederate reunion fixed for Aug. 23 and 24 at Lafayette has been postponed until all quarantines have been removed.

The City Council of Lafayette has levied

a tax of $2.50 per $1,000 to pay for quarantine expenses. This is the first quarantine tax so far levied, the expense in other cases having been met by borrowing money. The Board of Health of Minden, La., has The Board of Health of Minden, La., has gone to pieces over the enforcement of the quarantine regulations, the president, Dr. Luther Longino, resigning. This makes the tenth resignation of health officers in the parishes, who declare that it is impossible to enforce some of the wild quarantine systems declared by town councils and mass meetings.

Atlanta, Dallas and half a dozen other Atlanta, Dallas and half a dozen other Southern towns are now engaged in denying that they have yellow fever and are looking for the man who started the rumor. AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 13.—The quarantine which the State of Texas is maintaining against Louisiena has exhausted the appropriation for that purpose and Gov. Lanham to-day authorized the creation of a deficiency of $10,000 to continue the work. Under the new appropriation bill a deficiency cannot be created and the State may soon be without funds with which to continue the cuarantine. The new appropriation bill will become effective Sept. 1, but the quarantine allowance is only $17,000. the quarantine allowance is only $17,000.

SAVED BY GOOD SWIMMERS.

Ferryboat Passengers Thrown Into River

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., Aug. 13.-The steamer Eastland and a ferryboat crossing the river here collided last night. That no one was drowned was due to prompt action on the part of men on the pier, who saw the accident and dived to the rescue of the crew and passengers of the ferryboat, all of whom were thrown into the water.

The ferryboat, crowded with men, women and children, was almost at the dock when just starting on its return trip to Chicago. As the big steamer swung down stream the ferryboat attempted to pass in front of her and make the dock before the passenge and make the dock before the passenger boat went by, but was unable to do so in time, and the ferryboat crashed into the side of the Eastland. The collision did not damage the steamer at all, but it wrecked the ferryboat. A gasoline tank exploded, throwing the passengers into the river.

On the piers near by were hundreds of men watching the Eastland start. The bravest went at once to the rescue of the people struggling in the water, many of whom were unable to swim and who were in great danger of drowning. All were eafely landed.

SUMMIT, N. J., Aug. 13.-The facts of a particularly daring burglary which was mmitted at the home of William H. Wheeler in Crescent avenue, Summit, have Wheeler in Crescent avenue, Summit, have just leaked out. The thieves got jewelry and valuables worth $1,000. The burglars visited two rooms on the second floor between $ and $230 A. M., and although the members of Mr. Wheeler's family and the servants were in different parts of the house no sound of the intruders was heard. The greater portion of the jewelry that was taken was the property of Miss Hunter, a sister of Mrs. Wheeler, who is a guest at the Wheeler home. The police have not the alightest clue.

BURGLARS AND SNEAK THIEVES

The best for medicinal purposes. People who are

"Whiskey wise" drink

For sale by all dealers,

TRIED TO LYNCH A MURDERER. West Philadelphia Mob Had Ropes and

MOORE & SINNOTT

Philadelphia

New York Office:

PRILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 .- Pursued by an infuriated mob of men and boys carrying ropes and clubs, two policemen rushed for three blocks through West Philadelphia early this morning with a man accused of murder. The crowd had determined to lynch the prisoner and it was only the grit of the police that saved him.

He was Hugh J. Gahagan, 43 years old, who invited Francis P. Craig, 19 years old, into his house on West Thompson street and then shot him to death with a rifle. The murder was committed shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday and Gahagan disclosed it by his own fear. He rushed into the street and aroused the neighborhood by his frenzied cries.

"Craig's dead," he yelled. "For God's sake somebody come in, Craig's dead! In a few minutes the neighborhood whole was aroused and men and boys filled the streets. Everybody knew Craig, who was a popular young man. As soon as the crowd learned that Crais As soon as the crowd learned that Craig was really dead it began to mutter angrily. Gahagan retreated to his house. As the crowd became more threatening in its attitude and cries of "Lynch him!" reached his ears, Gahagan picked up his rifle and stood guard at the door, declaring that he would shoot the first man who came toward him.

The crowd was swarming into the front yard when Policemen White and Shaw arrived from the Haddington station. They fought their way through the crowd and into the house, where they seized Gahagan.

They fought their way through the crowd and into the house, where they seized Gahagan.

Meanwhile the crowd had collected clubs and ropes. The policemen realized that the situation was critical. The nearest patrol box was three blocks away. Placing Gahagan between them and drawing their revolvers, they charged the crowd. The mob fell back before them, cursing the policemen. The latter never stopped, but, dragging the prisoner between them, dashed down the street. The crowd pursued them. Clubs were hurled after the fleeing trio and the threats of lynching swelled into a weighty chorus. Breathless, the policemen reached the patrol box with their man. They sent in a hurry call for a patrol wagen. Then as the crowd swarmed threateningly about them they placed the prisoner in the patrol box and closed the door. With drawn revolvers they guarded the box until the patrol arrived and took Gahagan away.

HELD UP BY BOGUS COP. Adventure of Mrs. Mary Paisley With Fou

Men on Hackensack Plank Road. Mrs. Mary Paisley, 85 years old, who lives in Tonnele avenue. North Bergen in a house occupied also by Mrs. William Eppel, started for Arnold A. Renson's drug store, on the Hackensack Plank road, on Saturday night to get medicine for Mrs. and lonely spot three blocks from home

"I'm sorry," this man sai", "but it's my duty to arrest you. You've got to go to any orime, and the spokesman for the four remarked that he couldn't help that. Then he made it clear that she could avoid trouble by handing over all the money she had with her. The men seized the woman as if to carry her to jail, and she screamed.

She managed to break away and ran three blocks to the drug store. One man followed her there and repeated that she was hie prisoner. The druggist demanded to see the man's badge, and he showed one, but the druggist is not sure that it was a policeman's badge. Renson ejected the man and looked him out. Renson then put up the prescription for Mrs. Eppel and escorted Mrs. Paisley to the town hall, meeting her husband on the way.

Chief of Police Nolan and Recorder Kennell think that the footpads are the same who held up Miss Loretta Pfeiffer of 59 Grove street, New York, and her escort at Little Coney Island a week ago and demanded $5 on pain of being arrested. Miss Pfeiffer was so badly frightened that she died of heart disease several hours later. remarked that he couldn't help that. Then

NEWARK MAN DISAPPEARS. Wife Gets Strange Note, but No Trace

Writer Can Be Found. Joseph Hild, a butcher, 48 years old, of Fifteenth avenue and Hays street, Newark, has been missing since Wednesday. Yesterday his wife and children advertised extensively for information about him and begged him to return.

Hild went away from the shop with about still went away from the shop with account at the still of the Board of Street and Water Commissioners, where he paid his water bill. He met a relative in Newark a few minutes later and said he was coming to this city on a business trip. That was the last seen of him.

on a business trip. That was the last seen of him.

On Friday evening Mrs. Hild received a letter from him postmarked Youkers. It was a scrawl, different from his usual style, and contained the simple message: "Forgive me. Sell the business and live at ease." It was signed "Joe."

Hild is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 172 pounds. The police description says that he has been in bad health and may be deranged. He has sandy hair and gray eyes, and wore a pepper and salt suit. His son went to Youkers and found no trace of his having been there.

ASBURY PARK'S BACKSLIDING

visce Voting Against High License. ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 13.—Bishop. N Fitzgerald in the Ocean Grove auditorium this morning issued a note of warning against the liquor movement in Asbury ing against the liquor movement in Asoury Park, which he characterized as an attempt to break up the peace and good order of the community. He urged all within his hear-ing entitled to vote at the election next Friday to cast their ballots against the proposed ordinance for high license and lamented the backsliding tendencies of the twin city across the lake.

Among the passengers who arrived last night on the steamer Caracas from Porto Rico were B. R. Dix, treasurer of Porto HOTELS FURNISHED A FLAT.

THE MANHATTAN CONTRIBUTED MORE THAN ANY OTHER.

But a Drift of Pickings From the Walderf, the Cumberland, the Belleclaire and Other Places Garnished the Grogan Home-William Grogen Is Wanted

A truckload of table and bed linen, silverware and other property bearing the marks of various hotels was spread out in the police room of the Yorkville court vesterday. It had been taken from the home of William Grogan, arrested on complaint of Edward M. Shanks, assistant manager of the Hotel Manhattan.

Grogan had been a houseman in the otel and lives at 211 East Fortieth street with his wife and children. His wife was formerly employed as a servant in the

The hotel management had for some time been missing knives and forks, lace curtains, bed linen, ice pitchers and other articles. Grogan threw up his job a week ago Saturday. The housekeeper told Mr. Shanks last Saturday that she had seen Grogan put some bath towels under his coat shortly before leaving the hotel for home one night. Grogan had been implicitly trusted and had a pass key to all of the rooms of the hotel, as his duties required.

Mr. Shanks got a warrant, with which Court Policeman Carew went to the hotel in the expectation that Grogan would call for some of his clothes that he had left there in a locker. Grogan did come and was arrested. Outside the hotel he broke arrested. Outside the hotel he broke away from the policeman and ran. Carew threw his club at Grogan's legs and brought him down. After lodging him in the East Fifty-first street station the policeman with the assistant manager searched his flat.

The policeman had learned that Grozanian away from the control of the con

The policeman had learned that Grogan of entertaining servants from various hotels at growler parties. The rooms were found to be furnished with more or less luxury. In the kitchen the table had a fine cover that must have cost $40. There was a handsome silver pitcher on the sidehoard. cover that must have cost $40. There was a handsome silver pitcher on the sideboard, fianked by silver spoons, forks and knives of different patterns. In some of the rooms pieces of velvet carpet lay upon the ordinary ingrain carpet. Fine porcelain cuspidors were scattered about. The dining room closets were filled with expensive chinaware of many patterns. Lace curtains hung over the windows. Fine lines covered the beds and the headwork.

pensive chinaware of many patterns. Lace curtains hung over the windows. Fine linen covered the beds and the headworker's bed had a lace bedcover and lace fringed pillow shams.

The linen bore the stamps of several hotels. There were towels and napkins galore, and on these, too, he found the stamp of his own hotel as well as of others.

There was a napkin from the Waldorf-Astoria and towels bearing the stamp of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Astoria and towels bearing the stamp of the Young Men's Christian Association. Other articles bore the stamp of the Hotel Wolcott, the Cumberland Hotel, the Hotel Belleclaire and the Pullman company. The two visitors also found a quantity of expensive underclothing.

Carew gathered up the goods that bore hotel marks and found he had enough to fill a truck. He got the truck and took the stuff to the police room in the court building.

the stuff to the police room in the court building.

Mr. Shanks made a complaint yesterday in which he charged the prisoner with larceny of fifty dollars worth of towels and napkins. This constituted grand larceny and Magistrate Wahle held Grogan in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury.

Most of the seized property bore the mark of the Hotel Manhattan and Mr. Shanks was allowed to take away all but enough to show as evidence on the prisenough to show as evidence on the prisoner's trial.

The police are holding the rest for identification by the hotels whose stamps are upon it. president Jaques of the Hotel Men's Association communicated with the managers of the hotels whose mark was on property found in the man's room. Several of the managers said they would be unable to do anything until further information was obtained as to what servents carried obtained as to what servants carried off property.

GANG OF GEM SMUGGLERS? Federal Officers Make Two Arrests of Suspects in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. A gang of diamond smugglers is believed to make Chicago its headquarters. Disclosures made yesterday persuaded police and Federal authorities that such is the case. Eight one-carat ties that such is the case. Eight one-carat diamonds were recovered in a jewelry store at 201 West Madison street, and a man believed to be Henry Hoffman was arrested. The Washington authorities first learned of the operations of the supposed smugglers. Deputy Marshal A. A. Bach and John F. Scanlon of the special agents' office began an investigation. Working in secret, they came on the trail of Hoffman. He was traced to a saloon at Robey street and Chicago avenue.

When the police reached the saloon Hoffman and L. J. Bohl, a West Side jeweler, were in company. The former was trying to dispose of a large diamond. Hoffman and Bohl were taken to the West Chicago avenue police station. A Government warrant for their arrest on the charge of smuggling will be secured to-morrow. Search warrants for the West Madison street and other stores were then secured. Places in which the alleged smugglers secreted their jewels will be sought.

Missing Woman Found Drowned. Mrs. Carrie Baum, 49 years old, who disappeared from her home at 54 Second place, Brooklyn, about three weeks ago, was Brooklyn, about three weeks ago, was found drowned yesterday morning by James McNally of 115 Congress street, in the East River off the foot of Pacific street. The identification was made by John Baum, the woman's husband. Directly following the disappearance of the woman the police were notified and a general alarm sent out, but no trace of her movements was discovered. How she got into the water is a mystery.

Forty Years a Militiaman.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 13.-Col. Thomas Chambers has applied to the office of Adju-tant-General Brientnall for a forty year service medal for Commissary Sergeant John G. Boss of the Second Regiment. The medal means that Sergt. Boss has been in the State military service for forty continuous years. This will be the first forty year continuous service medal issued to any one but an officer.

BEGINNING THIS MORNING

The Post-Season Sale of Negligee Shirts for Men Special at 95c

Formerly $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50

Perhaps you know the manner of shirts with which we concern ourselves—the high character of the fabrics, the absolutely perfect proportions and the exacting standard which governs the tailoring. Then you need but know that every shirt which this offer concerns is from our regular stock, to be conscious of the extreme importance of this sale.

Negligee Shirts, with plain or plaited bosoms, in open front or coat models, with cuffs attached or detached, fashioned of the finest woven cheviot, madras, percale, mat-oxford and kindred weaves in all manner of designs and colors. Sizes 14 to 17%, with sleeves 34 or 35, cuffs attached, and 32

Saks & Company

Broadway, 33d to 34th Street.

X SLASH ON ONE MAN'S CHEEK And Bullets in Another's Back Laid to

Italians living along Arthur avenue, The Bronx, found Gennaro Colonna of 2086 Hughes avenue lying on the sidewalk at Hughes avenue and 189th street, yesterday afternoon, bleeding from a stab wound in the right cheek. On his left cheek was an X shaped cut that eemed to get the Italians that noticed it very much excited. They told Capt. Ferris of the Tremont avenue station that it was the "sign of the Mafia."

At Fordham Hospital Colonna said he had been attacked by Lorenzo Fazio of 2428

had been attacked by Lorenzo Fazio of 2428
Arthur avenue.

A few minutes after Colonna was stabbed, about 4 o'clock, an Italian tried to get into a saloon at 4754 Third avenue, about three blocks from Hughes avenue and 189th street.
Giuseppe Ledato, the bartender, ordered him away and he shot Ledato twice in the back. Ledato is dying.
Capt. Ferris said he thought the stabbing and shooting were done by the same man, and shooting were done by the same man, and a general alarm was sent out for Fazio. THE REV. DR. SAMPLE DEAD. Had Been Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Fleming Sample, who had been Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, died on Saturday night in the Presbyterian Hospital in his seventysixth year. He had been in the hospital a week. His death was due to a complication of diseases incident to his advanced age. Dr. Sample was a widower and lived at 334 West Twenty-third street. He will be buried from the Westminster Presbyterian Church, of which he was pastor

Dr. Sample was born in Corning, N. Y., Oct. 19, 1829, and was graduated from Jefferson College in 1849. He received his degrees of D. D. from Wooster University in 1876 and LL. D. from Washington and Jefferson College in 1898. His first pastorate was in Mercer, Pa., in 1853. After serving three other churches in various parts of the country he was called to the Westminster Presbyterian Church in this city and was pastor of the church from 1887 to 1902.

Dr. Sample was a traveler and a writer and one of the best known men in the Presbyterian Church. He was greatly interest in Present the was greatly interest. terested in Presbyterian educational institutions. From 1876 to 1889 he was a director of the McCormick Theological Seminary and for a number of years was a trustee of Macalester College at St. Paul.
He was a professor of Christian ethics in Lincoln University and was a delegate to the Presbyterian councils in Belfast in 1884 and Washington in 1899.
He was a prolific writer and contributor to the Presbyterian Church periodicals.
Some of his books are "Christ's Valedictory," "Elements of Pulpit Power" and "Beacon Lights of the Reformation."
In 1853 Dr. Sample married Nannie M.
Bracken of Canonsburg, Pa. She died in 1902.

in 1902.
Dr. Sample leaves three sons and two

Charles Shepard Beardsley died at his home in Auburn, N. Y., on Saturday, in his ninety-first year. Mr. Beardsley was gradninety-first year. Mr. Beardsley was graduated at Princeton College in 1838 and after studying law for a time at Auburn was engaged in active business for some time in this city and subsequently at Sing Sing, where he was engaged in the manufacture of carpets for several years. He afterward returned to Auburn and founded the firm of Beardsley, Keeler & Curtis, who successfully carried on foundry and machine shops, manufacturing steel tools of all kinds. Since his retirement from active business he has resided in Auburn. Mr. Beardsley was twice married 'and leaves a widow, ten children and numerous grandchildren and great grandchildren. Two of his sons residing here are Charles S. Beardsley, who was for many years an assistant in the Corporation Counsel's office, and Edmord Beardsley, who has been connected with the Croton Aqueduct Department for twenty-four years. Among the grandchildren living in New York city are Hulbert Ten Eyck Beardsley, vice-president of the American Bonding Company: Ten Eyck Remsen Beardsley, of the Trust Company of Americs, Mrs. Dr. Aspinwall Judd and Mrs. Winter W. Alfriend The funeral services will be held at Auburn to-day. nated at Princeton College in 1838 and after

The funeral services will be field at Abburn to-day.

Robert Dunning, a well known painter of fruit pictures, died on Saturday night at his summer home at Westport Harbor, Mass., aged 78. Mr. Dunning had been unwell since last spring, but had steadily attended to his art work. Feeling but slight improvement, he made arrangements for the temporary removal of his studio from Fall River to Westport in the hope that his health might be improved by the salt air and the opportunity afforded for rest and recreation. He was engaged there on several paintings at the time of his death. Mr. Dunning was also a painter of portraits, many specimens of his work in this line being in this city. His pictures have been repeatedly exhibited at the National Academy of Design and at the Boston Art Club.

George C. Varick of 8 Hampton Court

Art Club.

George C. Varick of 8 Hampton Court Terrace, Jersey City, died there yesterday at the city hospital at the age of 50. He was a son of the late Dr. Theodore R. Varick, and a grandson of Theodore Varick, one of the three original Associates of New Jersey who bought for $3,000 a large part of the Jersey City waterfront on the Hudson River. Mr. Varick was a brother of Dr. William W. Varick, a prominent Jersey City physician. He was formerly engaged in the real estate and coal business. He was a widower and is survived by a son and a daughter.

John W. Russertal, a wealthy New Bruns-John W. Russertal, a wealthy New Brunswick, N. J., brewer, was found dead of apoplexy in his bathtub yesterday morning. His wife and daughter sailed a month ago to spend a year in Paris. Other children survive him.

The Standard Oil Company has purchased three large farms at Hamilton, chased three large farms at Hamilton, seven miles outside of Plainfield, and is negotiating for several others, with a view to locating a plant to relieve the one in Bayonne and to raduce the likelihood of a disastrous fire by separating the amount of oil in storage. It is understood the company will erect a number of big tanks to relieve the pressure at the Bayonne plant.

MANY a man retion with the trousers belonging to his suit Many a man starting on vacation would better take an extra outing pair along, and save his suit. We carry everything in outing trousers and a large surplus of summer weight trousers from which we can piece out suits of almost any cloth. $5.00 to $10.00 per pair.

ASTOR-PLACE-AND-FOURTH-AVENUE

EVERY COMFORT New Jersey Central NEW YORK and PHILADELPHIA

Reading System

Rock Ballast - Block Signals - Vestibuled

Coaches - Cale Cars TRAIN EVERY HOUR AND ON THE HOUR

ASKS DAMAGES FOR SON'S HURTS.

Who Ran Down Young Galloway. MONTCLAIR, N. J., Aug. 13.—Supt. Lewis Galloway of the Montclair Water Company's pumping station has brought suit for $20,000 damages against Francis Delancy Hyde of Plainfield. Mr. Hyde is president of the Union County Investment Company and owns a fine automobile. About two years ago while riding along Valley road, in Upper Montclair, it is declared, he ran into a two wheel cart driven by Thomas Galloway, the plaintiff's son, aged 18, throwing him into the roadway and breaking four of his ribs. It is alleged that Mr. Hyde ran on about three hundred feet and then stopped and inquired about the extent of the boy's ininquired about the extent of the boy's injuries, offering to make good any damage that had been caused. Young Galloway did not recover rapidly, and it is thought that he is permanently injured. His father says that he waited in vain for Mr. Hyde to come to his relief and then placed the matter in the hands of Lawyer Edwin G. Adams of Newark.

It is said that Mr. Hyde does not regard himself blameworthy and will not voluntarily pay any damages or consider propositions for a settlement.

GAMBLING NOT ALLOWED ABOARD

New Mexico $200 Back. A story of a gambling game in midocean aboard the French liner La Bretagne, in yesterday from Havre, was denied by all the ship's officers when she got up to her pier yesterday morning. A passenger, a well dressed American, who gave his address as New York, and who was one of the first men to leave the pier, carrying only a hand satchel. The man from New Mexico lost $50 to the New Yorker at poker. It was suggested by the New Yorker at poker. It was suggested by the New Mexican that they should play pinocle. This time the man from New Mexico dropped $200. One of his friends who had been watching the game declared that the cards were marked. There was a dispute and Capt. Poncelot was appealed to to settle it He made the New Yorker give back the $200, according to the passenger who talked. The captain merely said that gambling was not allowed on his ship.

TRAVELS IN PLASTER CAST.

Mon Wong Carted Around a Long Way From Hospital to Prison. Limping painfully, and padded out until he suggested a pouter pigeon, Mon Wong of 11 Mott street was led into the Coroner's office yesterday afternoon in the custody of two policemen. Mon Wong had just come from Bellevue, where they had packed come from Bellevue, where they had packed the upper part of his body in a plaster cast for the protection of three broken ribs.

The mild eyed Mon Wong is one of the three Chinamen charged with the killing of Hop Lee, a laundryman, at 609 East Eleventh street, last Friday.

When Mon Wong was brought before the clerk of the Coroner's office yesterday the policemen were told that it would be necessary to take the prisoner to Coroner Scholer's house on West Forty-eighth street for a proper commitment, whereupon Mon Wong, limping and bloated, was put into a patrol wagon and rattled and bumped uptown, where Coroner Scholer remanded him to the Tombs without bail.